Challenges of corporate management balance the books to make ends meet notices, bulletins to parents and teachers discipline for class skippers and lunchroom behavior tuition payments and money requests passes for visitors or guests fund drive returns and club activities determine the beneficial and important for efficient operation

Sr. Amadeus's concentration mounts as she climbs the steps. Mrs. Glasgens aids the Federal government in distributing stamps. Mrs. Nichols checks invoices. Mr. McNamara is astounded with the success of the raffle. Mrs. Lerch hesitantly decides to write out an early dismissal slip. Mrs. Mattscheck processes another list of absentees. Sr. Perpetua marks off an early dismisser.

A teacher's work is never done delivering endless writing assignments, repetitive lectures, sneak quizzes, needed tests, spending hour after hour correcting papers, curving grades, distinguishing e's from undotted i's, team rooters, concert supporters, play boosters, activity moderators

Mr. Ortman admires Canadian products. Mrs. Krider pours the way to success. As the schoolday ends, Miss V. Huber departs with a smile. Mrs. Staub perks up during a break. This is all part of Mrs. Hensel's health program.

Acceptance, rejection liked by some — disliked by others laughed with —

Miss Connelly teaches Miss Cassiere the art of screening. Mrs. Holewski sets a precedent by shelving feathers. Sr. Cheryl's thoughts harmonize with the tune of a silent concert. Mr. Glascock and Mr. Sheridan start off the day with a mild case of energy. Sr. Clarita still can't figure out what the question was. Smiling faces greet Miss Parrish as she delves into the past.

Expert techniques learning through teaching bachelor's, master's, M.Ed.'s reason, logic, organization

Gourmet Mrs. Grimm delights in a saltine á la salt. With the ease of a pro, Mr. Westendorf explains the mysteries of Theology. Miss Huber pin points Mr. O'Connor's problem in a stitch.

Volatile charm

witty remarks a sharp sense of humor neat and efficient

Sr. Greta has speed up her sleeve.

Looks like Miss Timberlake and Sr. Victoria have their year's supply of paperwork. Sr. Elizabeth Mary and Sr. Henrietta attempt to figure out the modular system. Sr. Clara has push button service at her fingertips. Miss Thacker is starting the new exercise plan.

Candid expression sincere compliments, honest criticisms outspoken, yet reserved

Mrs. LaPresto reaches to new heights. For Sr. Jarlath and Mrs. Grebb the fate of the game lies in the balance. Fr. Cooper can't decline the chance to recline. Mrs. Foster introduces an old friend to a new one, Miss Honekamp. Miss Schilling's ribbons and bows go hand to hand. Mrs. Rihm glows in happy anticipation.

Mrs. Semancik and Miss Tebben exchange departing words of wisdom. Sr. Johanna deciphers computerized living. Mrs Dunkerly demonstrates her tactics for playing Indians. Sr. Loretta Marie springs the timer on Mrs. Kanter. Mrs. Hanagan admires the machinery of the economic room. Mrs. Mohrhaus finds another success in her Westinghouse.

Alive and sensitive strong minds,

big hearts,
ready hands occasional dull jokes underground celebration parties

Mrs. Capano travels at a fast pace. Sr. Michaeleen demonstrates her famous library pass. Mrs. deDuggi proves a little dab'l do it. Father Leurck and Sr. Eileen Marie pose high goals — they start at the top. For answers to age-old questions, consult yellow pages suggests Father Ruzick. While recording grades, Sr. Esther is gladly distracted.

Tested patience bad days with little sympathy never ending chatter blank answer sheets classes of unraised hands

Mr. Castelli selects his college. Miss Deck admires the art of students. Mrs. Dressman quizzes the minds of seniors. Staged pictures are out of the question — Sr. Deanne Marie and Mr. Englert. Mrs. Bielefeld hesitates before unwinding Spanish culture.

Untiring willingness struggle for improvement, encouragement for educational advancement and individual progress

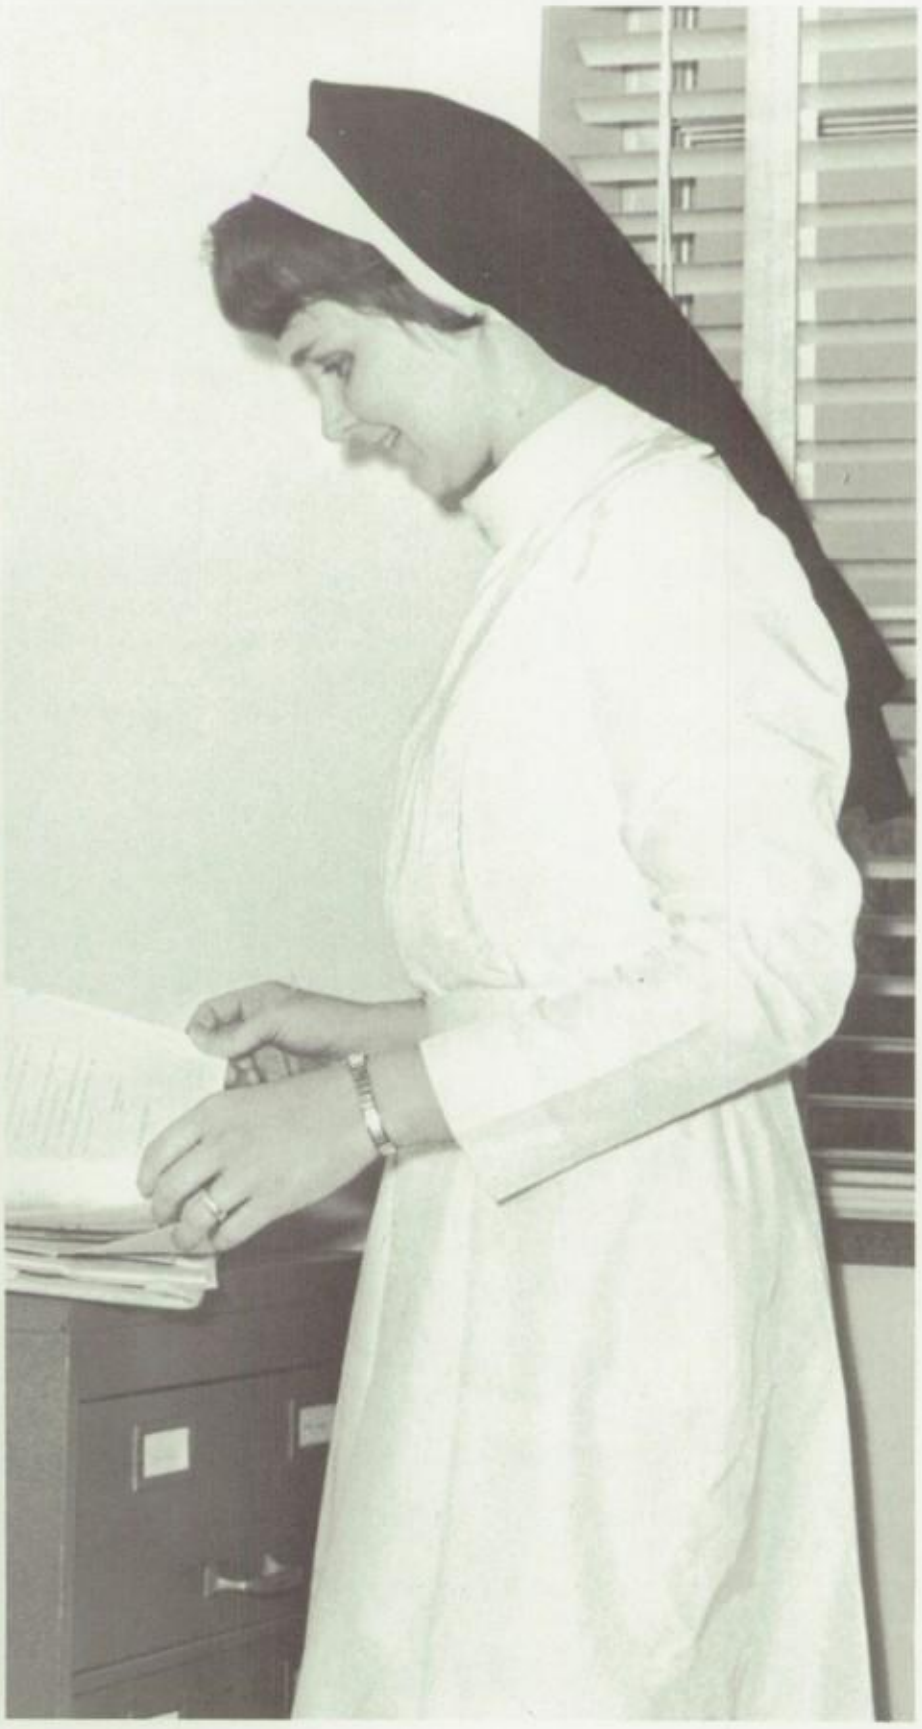
Miss Kremer displays her stern look of determination. "Are you sure I won't stick the baby, Miss Schaefer?" asks Mr. Junker. Mr. Hitzler gets out of his trucking business. Sr. Marjorie pages through files of promising meals.



Accomplishment is work

North Central team evaluates curriculum communicating in a foreign language experimenting with scientific concepts classroom and behind the wheel training respecting but maybe not accepting anothers belief

An astonishing chemical discovery awaits R. Freson and T. Ducker. Education doesn't stop — not even behind the wheel of a car. J. Poniske focuses her studies on the Middle Ages.

Imagination counts orchestra members outdo themselves at "Sound of Music" tumblettes tumble in St. Pat's Parade dramatists become the parts that creative swerve of the hand

One puff and you have a T. Westover original. D. Walters observes McAuley's fall showcase. M.G. Hempel stares in disbelief at one night's growth. Is it heads over heels or heels over heads?

Progress and Study frying an egg, hemming a skirt or ironing a pleat mastering the intricacies of an electric typewriter looking at civilization of nations score: McAuley 6 Opponent 4

Is this what S. Hall and D. Denicola think is meant by the floor plan? K. Barone's assignment draws to an end. R. Richardson exhibits the sophomore's idea of an iron hand. Miss Schaefer and B. Forman found a quiet place to discuss geometry. T. Kile feeds her hampster an energy booster.

S.C. is for the student

Student Council officers, A. M. Drummey, G. Hirt, and pres., P. Eppinghoff, review notes before an important meeting. M. L. Elsbernd, B. Martin, and P. Brown lead the fight against litter at McAuley. With joined hands, smiling Student Council officers, J. Nurre, D. Torok, J. Lewis, M. Dewald, and D. Jester, show unity. Proud McAuleyans display their enthusiasm for the wearin' of the green. Uninhibited cries of joy follow the Student Council election announcements.

faculty appreciation day participants: roaring '20 seniors singing sweatshirted juniors dawning sophomores of Aquarius sophisticated freshmen present baskets of sausage, cheese, candy a table, a refrigerator and radios objective: show McAuley's teachers their work is not in vain

The 1969-70 semi-finalists. When fashion goes back, so do the seniors. Junior representatives sing out their appreciation for teachers. Three lambs exit with a "baa". Sophomores groove for the teachers.

volleyball this year — basketball next year?

With his fellow faculty team members looking on, Fr. Cooper shows how high he can jump. Sr. Amadeus is stunned at Mr. Westendorf's volleyball tactics. Algebra or no algebra, Mrs. Rihm proves she's a real swinger. Rain, rain go away, Mr. Ortman wants to play. With Miss Connelly to back him up, Fr. Ruzick socks it to 'em.

Linhardt stretch out their success in '70. McAuley's visitors sweep the ball away. A volleyball team member reaches high to win. S. Brichler awaits the coming of the spirit in the sky. J. Buescher and opponent minuet over the net. All jump but who has the ball?

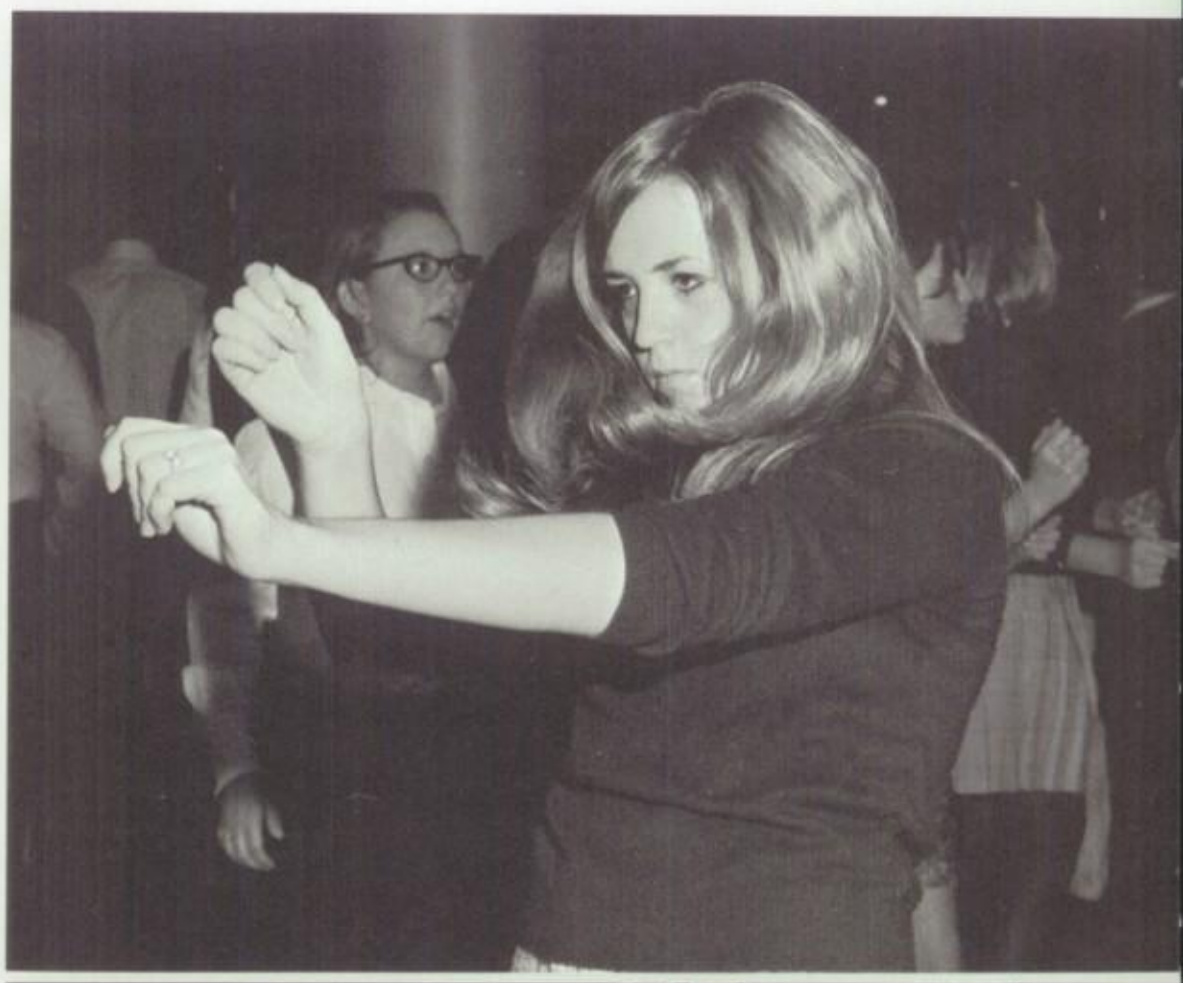
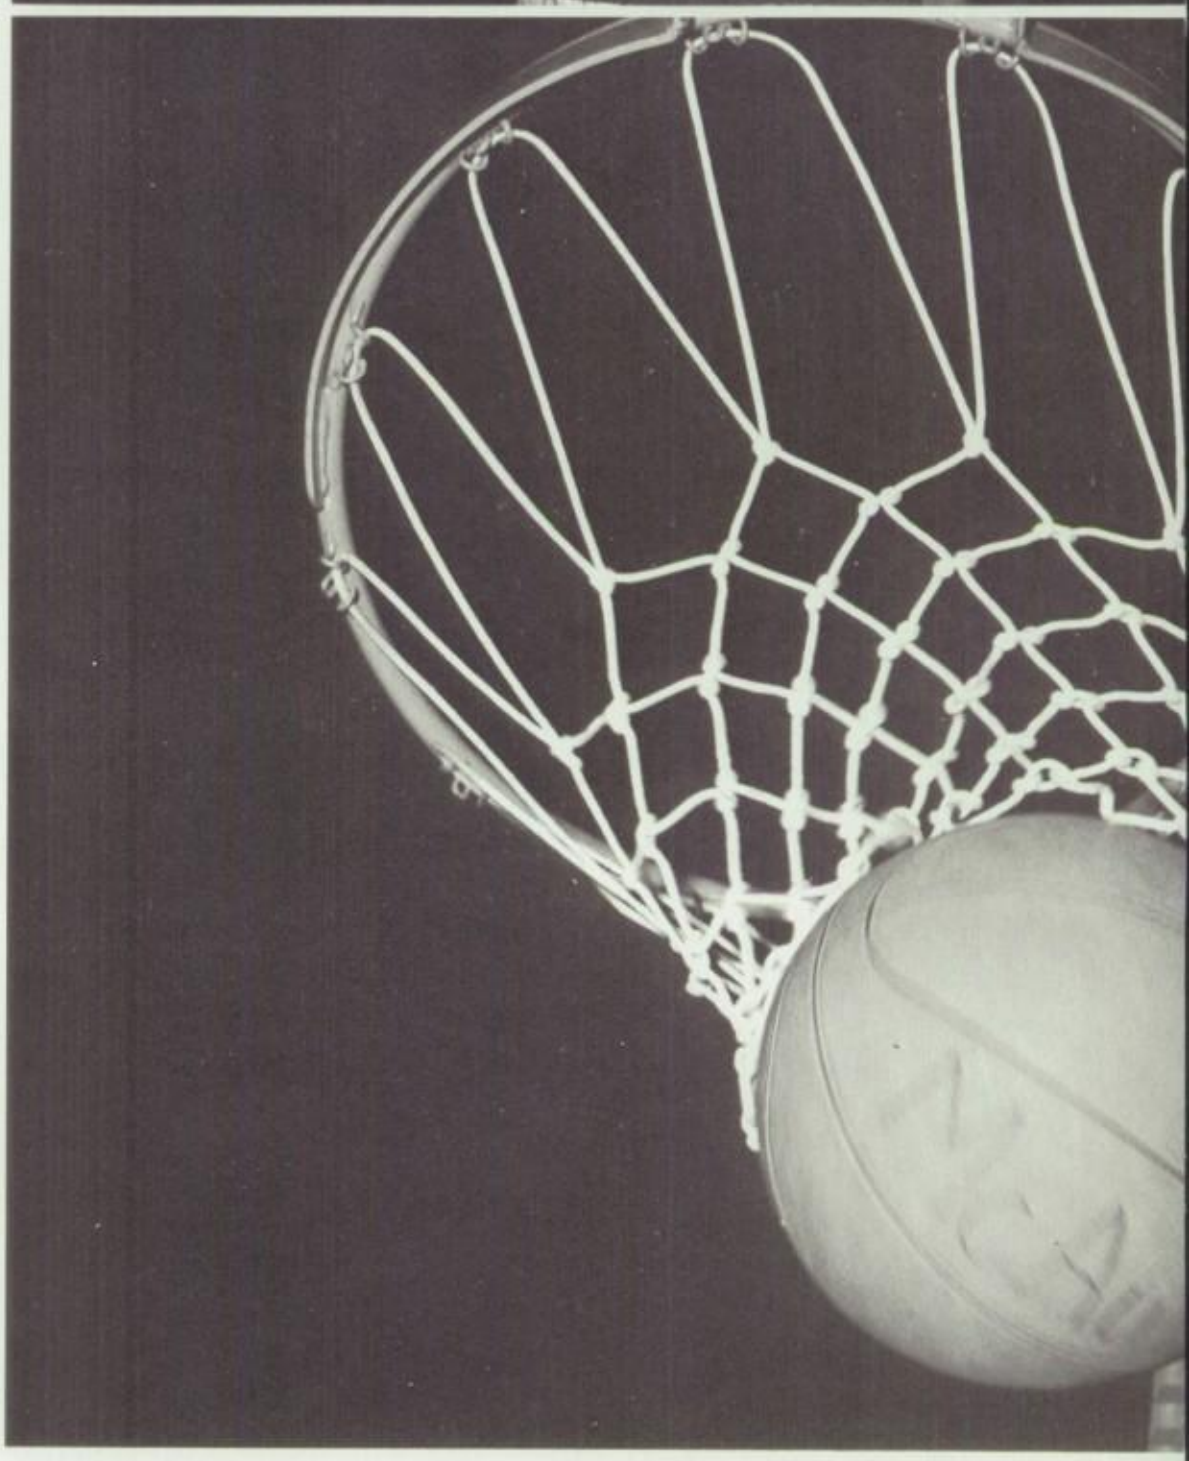
M. Jaguar jerks to the rythmic beat. McAuley's spirit opens wide for victory. The GAA officers', S. Brichler, K. McCarthy, J. Buescher, J. Linhardt, R. A. Ruberg, M. B. Doran, enthusiasm rises sky high. Unbiased judges sit patiently anticipating the next foul play.





MCBRIDE-

Up, up and away teamwork and sportsmanship passing the ball or making long shots dirty low-tops, sweaty uniforms exhausted yet playing on sprained ankles, sore muscles, bruises losing after a great fight winning a big one proud of the brown and gold

Varsity Basketball Team, S. Liddy, L. Hoffman, R. A. Ruberg, J. Buescher, D. Behler, T. Vorderbrueggen, J. Linhardt, L. Warburg, K. Leahy, J. Nurre, V. Stevens, K. McCarthy, B. McDonaugh, squeeze in for a close shot. The varsity basketball team breaks for a briefing of strategy. Many hands make light ball. Opposing team members reach upward toward a common goal. Reserve Basketball Team, K. Linhardt, J. Aug, S. Bigner, D. Behler, M. K. Backus, J. Nurre, E. Staudigel, C. Metz, D. Klosterman, J. Heinrich, J. Pelzel, M. Leigh, pose with winning smiles. With a propelling power of concentration, S. Liddy bounds forward to gain the lead.

Short but pretty exercising a special gift for two nights tumblettes star in "A Little Girl's Wish" Raggedy Annies and Andies, Sailors, Clowns gymnastic feats that amaze many badminton, ping pong, shuffleboard playing to find the best competition and fun

A flash of some seniors when they were little dolls. Tumblettes give a final salute to a sea of people. Our smiling baby dolls were so-big in the variety show. Just like the underclassmen — always clowning around. N. Cox anticipates the birdies' decent before the kill.

During the "Age of Aquarius", S. Seigel shares the evening with her special date. Is it true that D. Wilkens, a Leo, and her Aquarius date find happiness through the stars? Safety Council officers, D. Giesken, D. Handorf, T. Lukes and N. Rohling rev up spirit for Safety Week. Remnants of that treasured night, never to be forgotten. Two unlicensed sophomores, S. Hannan and B. Ewald, ponder the peculiarities of the drivers.

Projectionists, library aides delve into stacks of resources straightening Seventeen, Glamour checking study hall passes finding lost books on call during all study halls weeding through stacks of film dull, lonely minutes in AV room viewing films over and over hardworking and efficient

Red tape is all the Projectionist officers, J. Armbruster and V. Brons, find in the AV room. K. Braun and J. Springer, the Library Aids officers, can't seem to balance their books. J. Phillips and N. Diegmueller display the changing fashions. M. S. Haverkos exhibits the vigor of sophomores. J. Kostoff and R. Crowley wind up another days work. D. Marks and J. Goldy project their knowledge of Audio-Visual aids.

The officers of FBLA, pres., S. Hoessli, J. Heyob, J. Schwab, and M. A. Stehlin, type up the annual student directories. Health Careers officers, C. Casey, D. Gehrum, and C. Hammons, stand by while pres., C. Filusch, takes a breather. S. Greta proudly accepts a gift from her business students. A good book is the key that unlocks the door to friendship. It is true that FTA officers, B. Miller, pres., M. Wilz, K. Bare, and D. Bosse, are really student teachers?

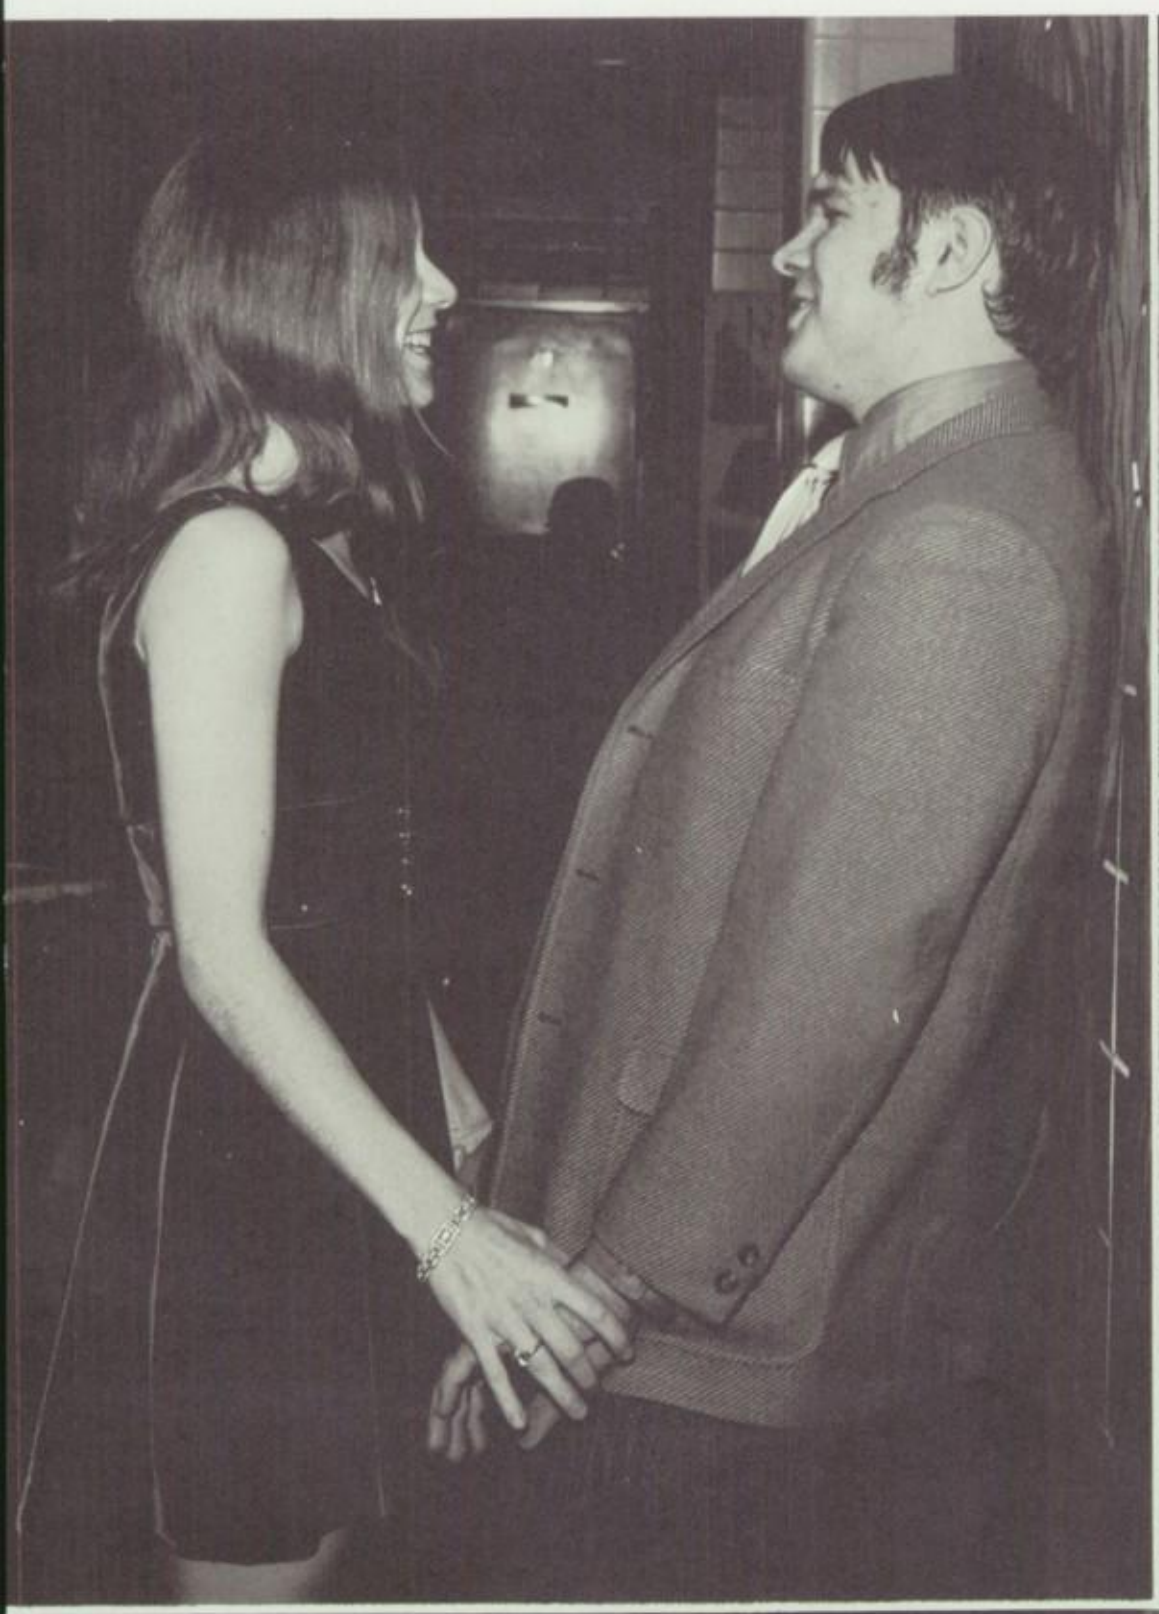
Spanish Honor Society officers, F. Boullie, V. Carr, pres. J. Kist and J. Calme, are floored by a foreign exchange student. Latin Club officers, B. Frerick, pres. P. Fox and M. A. Lampe, get fitted for their annual banquet. French Club officers, V. Kuemmel, pres. R. Ruberg and M. Weber, attempt to assemble a pot of paper flowers. P. Kress and date enjoy a quiet interlude between dances. T. Campbell attempts the "Popcorn." B. McDonagh and J. Sagel look over each other's date.



Spiritual communications

Senior smorgasboard is taster's choice for B. Smith and K. Goodman. Students show unity by arranging Thanksgiving dinners for those less fortunate. C.S.M.C. officers, C. Keller, M. Weber, J. Golde, L. Mauer, and pres. D. Corrado, scrabble for unity. Juniors readily bring their basket-full of goodies. Behind an array of flower tags, sophomores back their candidate for mission queen.

"Hold fast to dreams . . ."

a treasured, icy night sprigs of mistletoe, gold paper roses scarlet red flowers, green satin ribbons velvet, crepe and brocade gowns puffy sleeves and soft curls a tall brunette for snow queen a midwinter's night's dream come true

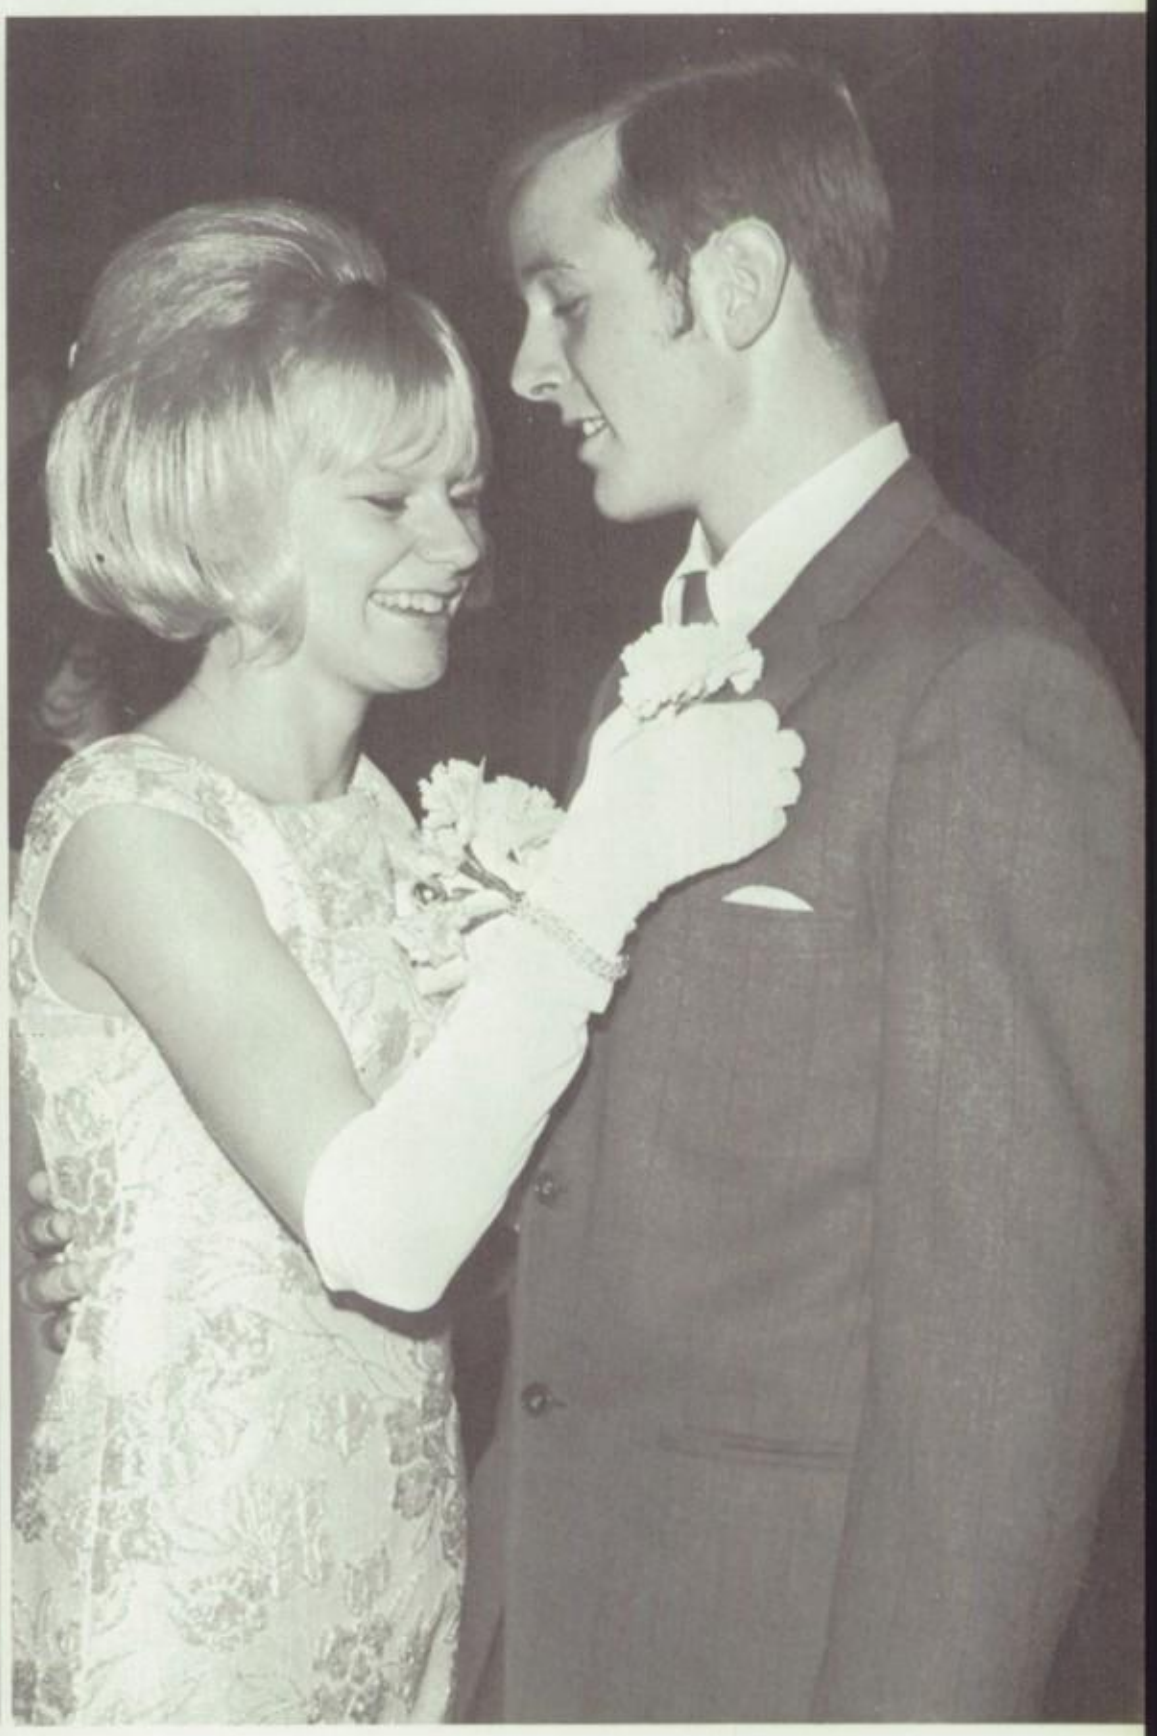
McAuley's Snow Queen and her court drift into a "Midwinter Night's Dream". D. Kunkel and date can't decide what to write. With eager hands, P. Eppinghoff crowns M. Collins Snow Queen. Is M. J. Meyer pressing her luck?



E. Huth and dad are crowned King and Queen for the night. A daughter secures daddy's hat to the backdrop. Is this McAuley's version of "The Courtship of Beth Gandenburger's Father"?

My heart belongs to daddy a night to share each other DAD — written with Pepsi cups lively spirits enhance the evening a knight, his lady — their dynasty a generation apart —

The man in my little girl's life a carnation for Dad's favorite girl dancing with a shorter man check room girls kept busy sharing a delightful evening a generation together

Sophomores kick their heel for dad. Is Mr. Tasset trying to get back at his daughter Jan? K. Holtgrefe and her father dance the traditional king and queen dance. Sophomores relax at a simple game of Fish.

A man and a woman pictures taken on a love seat personalized stationery mid-calf baby doll dresses

Betty Frerick reigns gracefully

K. Smith's confident entrance draws near. J. Oldendick's date proclaims, "Happy are they who smile." The prom court, P. Tabar, K. Goodman, C. Niehaus, B. Frerick, S. Carle, R. A. Ruberg, D. Sieling, poses a moment in the orient. With tears in her eyes, B. Frerick proudly accepts her crown as queen of the prom.

underclassmen

There's no turning back plastic school bags to eye make-up prepared plate lunches to smorgasbord loafers and gym shoes to saddles Sunday afternoon to Friday night sports a little girl now a young lady Enthusiastic Latin students watch attentively as their peers perform. Dads and daughters have a swinging time on the dance floor. R. Oldendick and M. Ritter join in the entertaining at an old folks home. S. Gall proudly displays her singing ability. "How come I'm the only one who gets caught! " exclaims C. Kloefer.

Lively curiosity

bubbly bright smiles unexpected adventures

M. Grebb sometimes gets all wrapped up in herself. Not everyone can erase her problems in one easy stroke.

The mark of a frosh new saddles unfaded skirts clean lockers buttoned blazers

Freshmen map out offensive maneuvers. I just want to borrow her shoes. D. Barlag loosens up a straightened frosh. Freshmen sure live up to their reputation. M. K. Hulsmann is deep in sucker security. Stunned P. Panzeca accepts Sr. Amadeus' congratulations.

"Wise Fools"

phone-finished homework slyly postponed tests skirt rolling mastery

Sophomore Homeroom Presidents and Chairmen watch the birdie. First Row: M. Eglaeder, K. Folzenlogen, P. Seibert, K. Osterkamp. Second Row: E. Bauer, J. Miller, D. Parkinson, M. Buescher. Third Row: J. Aug, P. Zarlman, D. Rack, M. Hannan. Fourth Row: C. Daush, E. Stairdigel, C. Schmidt, D. Newman, P. Binder. Sophomores line up for Daddy's Little Girl. Dads and daughters are loving every moment of it. How much longer do I have to hold this position?

Don't tell us about the good old days forget the smell of newness a change from simplicity no more clean lockers

Sophomore volleyball champs T. Carson, L. Maurer, M. Heinrich, D. Day, J. Aug, B. Ries, T. Lukes, D. Czimbal, L. Siegmund, and K. Rober are at a standstill. Is there more than this that meets the eye? The spirit of togetherness unites the sophomore class. Sophomore spirit runs wild and free. Class president, K. Linhardt, takes time out from her busy schedule.

Uninhibited impulse radiant-red ribbons life, I love you . . .

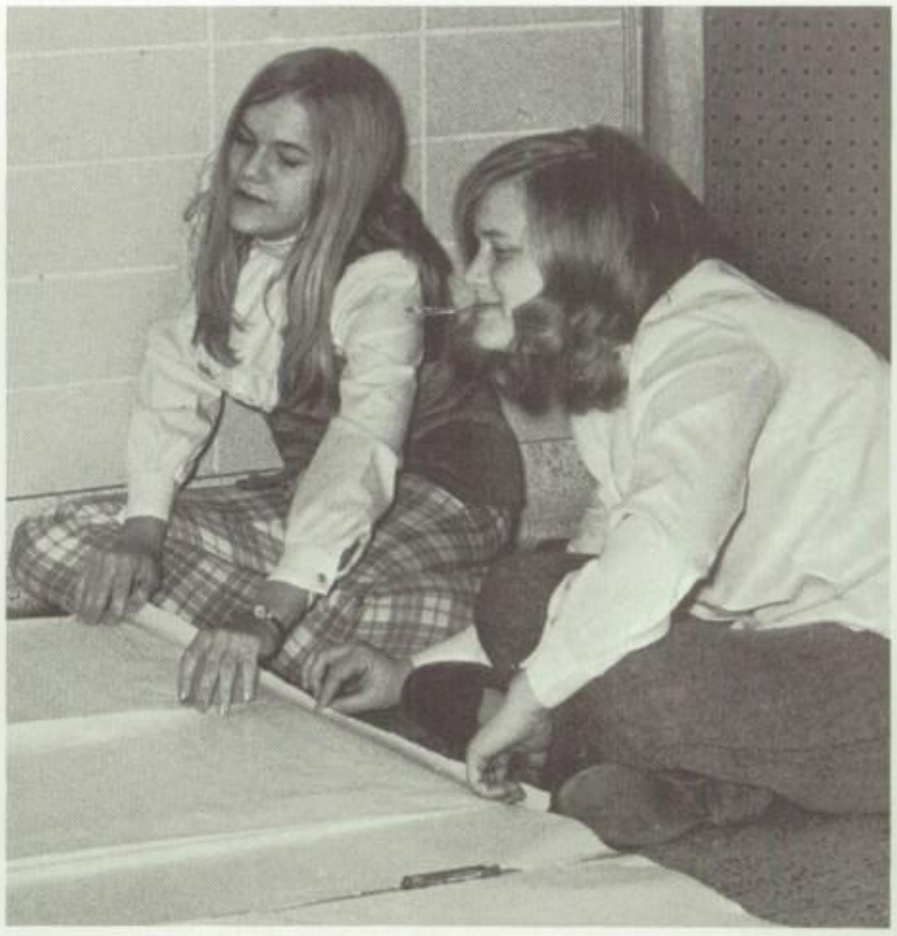
all is groovy



M. Shea sketches McAuley's posing duo. Line it up, tack it and we're finished. M. Huhn and J. Otto.

sophomores "got it"

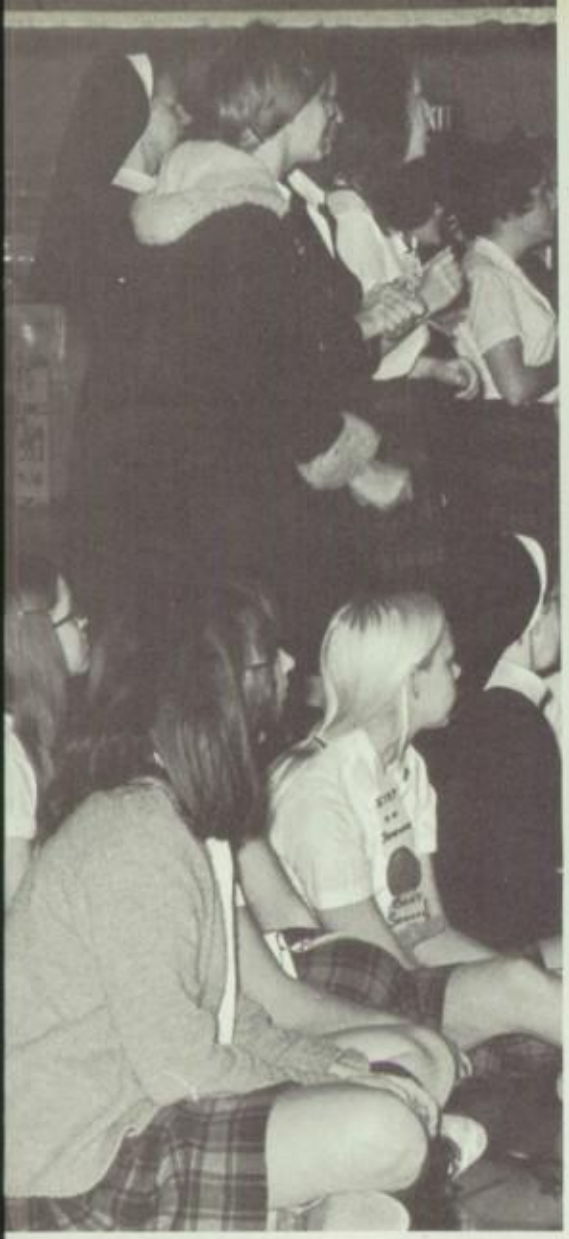
    jubilant carnival

M. A. Buescher serenades the audience. M. Huhn clowns around peddling ballons with D. Day.

71 GIVE THE POWER, 70
GIVE (SOUR)



There's a little bit of junior in everything that happens elegant, unforgettable formals girls on council talent scouts ring measurements and portrait sittings closed retreat — a first PSAT, National Merit results

As the Christmas Dance looms, gold roses bloom. Greta's gangsters holdup the camera. Triggered by a spike, J. Bill explodes. Too many secrets are revealed by open doors. Enthusiastic juniors make their vote count.

Things are looking good next year — first assembly three years down — one to go envelopes opened during mass

Mayor E. Huth blossoms with happiness at the arrival of her flowers. The top voted juniors represent McAuley in Girl and Her City Day — Standing are M. Schehr, M. Dewald, N. Kammer, J. Casteel, J. Lewis, E. Huth and Sitting K. Bernecker, M. J. Meyer, S. Liddy, M. Murphy. D. Bosse confers with top Cincinnati officials while others provide entertainment. M. Stehlin and R. Niehoff try to weigh out their problems. Junior homeroom presidents and chairmen take sides — Top to Bottom are S. Kathman, S. Carr, B. Trice, P. Peters, M. Mackzum, M. A. Stucker, J. Tellentelo, N. Kammer, P. Watson, K. Brinkman, S. Day, M. J. Meyer, D. Bernard, B. Otten, N. Zeinner, P. Rhoades, K. Bernecker, A. Kieffer.

Distinctive, determined common goals, struggles, spirit

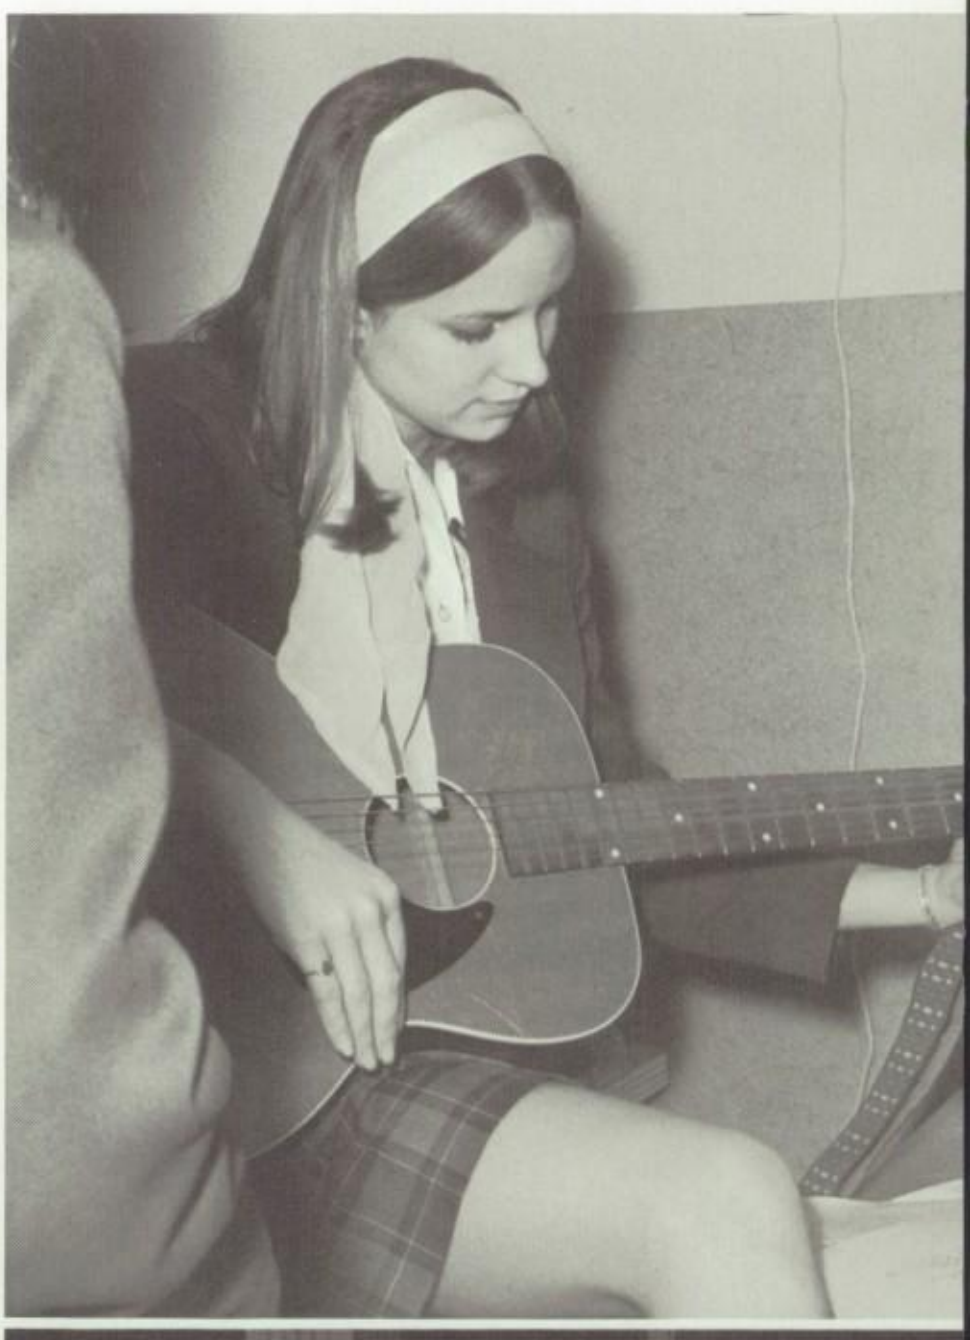
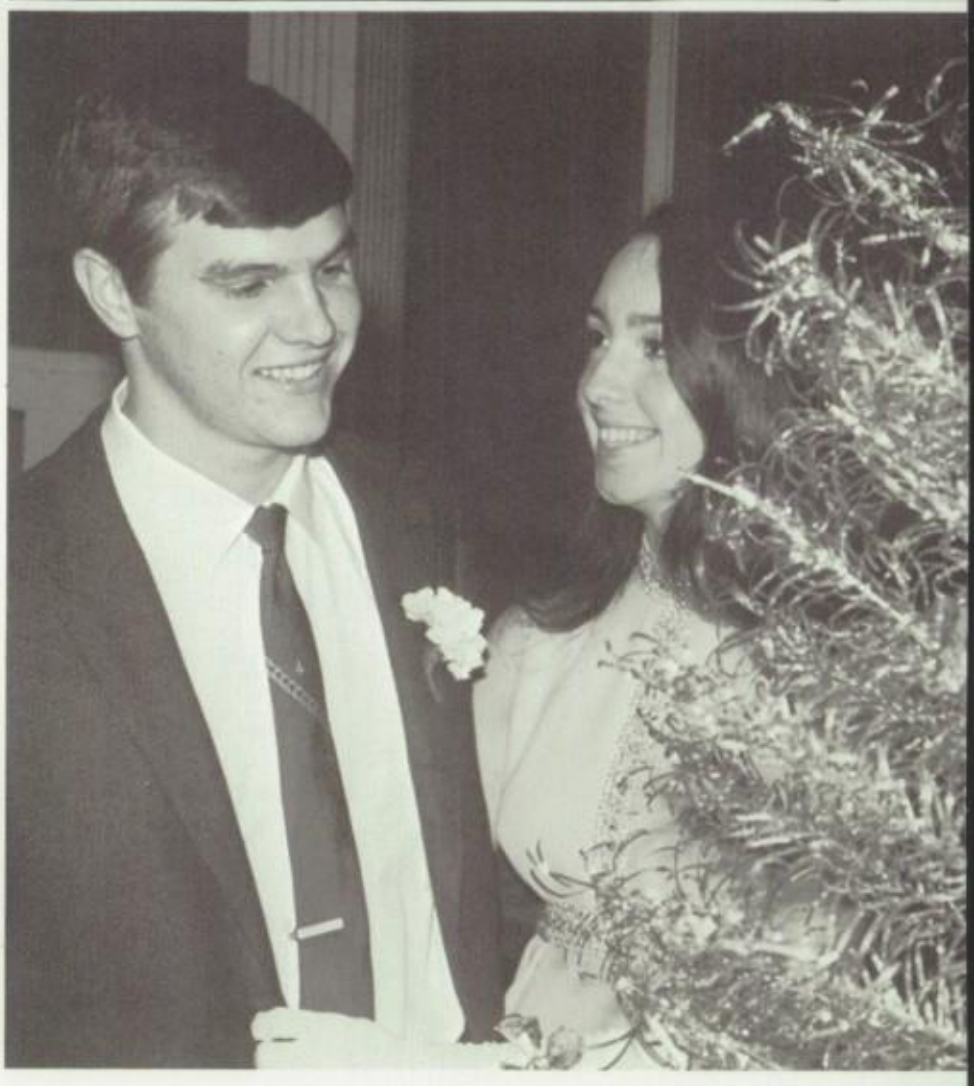
"you get cool"





Showtime with T. Bosse posing as granny. Alright girls, this is what's happening. T. Ollinger strums a peppy lyric. J. Casteel, junior class president, passes a silvery glance to Steve.

Phelan, T. Vorderbrueggen, P. Holland, S. Stahley — missing: C. Albers, S. Carle, P. Sillies, D. Berding. The shock of discovery horrifies C. Albers. S. Carle acquires a new habit.

Remember this . . .

graduation '70 . . .
guests' tension prevails — anticipate rain Father Ted encourages graduates to unclench their hands to the world "Suscipe" sung sincerely
"There's a Place for Us" sung joyously 305 students graduate in the accompaniment of the 17 year locust

Anxious debutantes prepare for their finale. Rose gives a little help to her friend. 305 young ladies walk into their future beginning with a white envelope of achievement. The class of '70 patiently awaits their forever remembered moment.
